

ABSTRACT

A single-use, delivery vehicle for the treatment of warts, consisting of a solution of cantharidin, acetone, and flexible collodion packaged in a crushable ampoule with an absorbent, applicator tip.

- 5 A method of delivering wart-removing compositions to the skin, consisting of the steps of crushing an ampoule containing the wart-removing composition and pressing the absorbent tip against the wart.